2022

Koil Kora ha Mioad Lomeshutim/Mekufaltot Baonirosit Tichabib

The Tel Aviv University Center for Combatting Pandemics (TCCP) is pleased to announce scholarships for doctoral studies for the academic year 2022.

The scholarships aim to support candidates in their studies related to understanding and combating pandemics and their consequences.

The scholarships will be awarded to students and doctoral candidates engaged in research in the fields of healthcare, biological, technological, social, legal, economic, psychological, cultural, and historical studies.

The scholarships will be distributed to students under the guidance of a senior faculty member of Tel Aviv University.

The scholarships will be awarded for one academic year.

Eligible candidates must have completed their registration as students and be approved by the Doctoral Committee. Additionally, candidates must be affiliated with the TCCP Center.

Deadlines:

1. 100% scholarship for Doctoral studies.
   - The scholarship is not dependent on fulfills.
   - To encourage scholarships, the successful candidates are expected to complete their degrees as expected.

2. Duration of one academic year, running from the beginning of the academic year 2022.

Eligible candidates must submit an application including the following:

1. A resume, including a list of publications and achievements (if applicable).
2. A research proposal highlighting the relevance of the research to combating pandemics or studying pandemics (up to one page).
3. Two letters of recommendation from senior scholars and mentors, one of whom must be the candidate's advisor.
4. The completed application including all required documents should be submitted as a PDF document.

Candidates are encouraged to submit letters of recommendation directly to the Center with the subject line: "Recommendation for [Candidate’s Name] for TCCP Scholarship 2022".

Best wishes!

This call is for candidates from all the Faculties at Tel Aviv University

The Tel-Aviv University Center for Combatting Pandemics (TCCP) will award up to 6 scholarships for PhD students to individuals who are actively involved in research directly relevant to studying or to combatting pandemics. Applications from students off all scientific disciplines at Tel Aviv University are encouraged, including (but not limited to) Medical, Biological, Technological, Societal, Psychological, Philosophical, Cultural, Legal and Economical.

The applicants should be carrying out research under the supervision of an Academic Faculty member at Tel Aviv University. The scholarships will provide 100% support by TCCP to the awarded student. Matching is not mandatory, but we encourage the PIs and Academic Units to match the scholarships to the level of support which is common at their Academic Unit. The scholarships will be effective from the beginning of the Academic year 2022-2023 for a period of one year.

Candidates eligible to apply for this scholarship must be PhD students at TAU, whose research proposal has been approved by the PhD committee of their Faculty.

Only members of the Tel-Aviv University Center for Combatting Pandemics (the applicants and/or their PIs) may apply for a scholarship. If you or your PI have not yet registered as members of the Center, you are invited to do so by sending an email to benhar@tauex.tau.ac.il or to Yael Ben-Ishai yaelbi@tauex.tau.ac.il listing: Name, Faculty, Position (PI or student), email address, cellphone number, brief description of scientific activity.

The current list of Senior Faculty members who are listed as members of TCCP is available at: https://en-pandemics.tau.ac.il/staff

The awardee will not be considered an employee of the University.

To apply, please submit an application by filling out the Table below and required documents and send it via email to Prof. Itai Benhar (Director of the TCCP) benhar@tauex.tau.ac.il or to Yael Ben-Ishai (Administrative Assistant of the TCCP) yaelbi@tauex.tau.ac.il, by September 1, 2022 with “Application for TCCP PhD Scholarship 2022” in the subject line.

The Table and requested documents listed on the next page may be in English or in Hebrew. Please submit the entire application as a single PDF file. However, letters of recommendation may be sent by email directly to the Center with the heading “Support of XXX application for a TCCP PhD Scholarship 2022”.

Good luck!
